

West Central School District 49-7

HUMAN RELATIONS EDUCATION
(Moral and Character Instruction)

The board and school will encourage parents and community members to play a major role in providing guidance to students to enable them to develop their own code of ethics. West Central School also recognizes that the church, as well as other institutions within the school district, play an important part in contributing to the moral attitude of students.

In accordance with SDCL 13-33-6.1 state law, the district will provide character development instruction.

In developing curriculum for various courses, the superintendent and the professional staff will keep in mind lessons which can contribute to the moral instruction of the students. In addition, through the performance of their own activities staff members should keep in mind that they serve as role model for the students, and instruct students in these areas.
